KNOW THY DESTINY.
Madame E. F. Thompson, the great English clairvoyant, clairvoyant and psychometrist, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thompson possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very future of the person who is to marry and by an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometre, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can attest. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive a picture and desired information by return mail. All communications sacredly confidential. Address in confidence, Madame E. F. Thompson, P. O. box 223, Hudson, N. Y.

News of the Week.

A Washington dispatch states that several Republican Senators are urging the release of Jeff. Davis, and other prominent members of the party offer to sign bail bonds for him.

They have nominated a citizens ticket for municipal officers in Sandusky, in the hope of getting rid of the lawlessness which has prevailed in that city of late.

Gov. Patton, of Alabama, has published a long letter, in which he advises the people to accept the terms proposed by Congress for reconstruction, cheerfully, and carry out the law faithfully.

Botts called on Gen. Schofield, in Richmond, the other day, and undertook to advise him as to the administration of affairs in the district of Virginia. His reception was not flattering, and J. M. feels "snubbed."

The New York Tribune's Crete letter of the 24th ult., says the insurgents have been successful in two important battles. The whole island is again under arms, and the people are more determined than ever to be satisfied with nothing short of annexation to Greece.

A. Appleton & Co., of New York, have given one hundred thousand books to the Peabody trustees, for the use of the South.

In the village of Chelsea, across the bayou from Memphis, S. H. Dameron was shot in the abdomen and fatally wounded, by his father-in-law, L. D. Hood on Saturday. A difficulty about drawing water from Hood's cistern was the cause of the murder.

The Levee Commissioners are using every exertion to close the crevasses, which have done much damage, and threatening more, in St. James Parish. The break is 100 feet wide, but most of the water flows off through Lake des Allemands and the bayou, and much injury has thus been averted.

Bingham and Butler are at daggers' points—at least they would be if they were not a little afraid of cold steel. One of Bingham's last was that his opponent had lived in a bottle and been fed with a spoon.

The Hon. Hamilton Ward offered a resolution in the House yesterday to refer the investigation of the late Mrs. Surratt's guilt or innocence to a Judicial Committee of Inquiry. It was not sustained. The Radicals don't want to resurrect that ominous subject.

The Chicago board of trade will achieve a most unenviable notoriety. A few days ago it passed a resolution to donate $5,000 to the starving Southerners. Twelve hundred were collected, which, upon the resolution of a red-headed Abolitionist, was returned to the subscribers, and so the matter drops.

The hotels at White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, a favorite watering place before the war, are to be opened the coming season.

The body of a missing girl was found in her father's cellar in Brandon, Vermont, recently, and her father has been arrested on suspicion of having caused her death.

Mrs. Macallister has recovered $5,000 damages from the N. Y. Central Railroad, for injuries sustained in an accident near Oneida, in 1865.

A Mormon woman avows in the Desert News that she would rather have the hundredth part of a Mormon than a whole Gentile. The Gentiles reciprocate.

It is stated that the prison grounds at Salisbury, N. C., are to be planted with cotton the present season.

Most of the peach buds in the Yorkville District, S. C., were killed by the severe weather last week.

The officers of local steamers have offered to carry supplies gratuitously from Memphis, to the sufferers by the flood.

Washington dispatches state that Gen. Grant emphatically denies having expressed an opinion as to the adjournment question.

A dispatch by the Atlantic Cable states that the North German Parliament has adopted the constitution substantially as proposed by Count Bismark.

Reports from points on the river above New Orleans, state that the levees are giving away, and the whole lower valley will probably be inundated.

Wanted a Wife.

I'm firmly resolved from this minute. To bear it no longer. I vow, The deuce is eternally in it, Eternally I'm in a row— Ten thousand vexations annoy me, Involving me ever in strife; And 'ere they completely destroy me, I'll take to my bosom a wife.

The virtue of patience has left me, Alas! that I sadly bemoan; For the laundry has nearly bereft me, Of every garment I own— Two collars, besides being rusted, You'd swear had been cut with a knife; I'm sick, I am mad and distracted, Oh! how do I long for a wife.

Content with this manner of living, Some stoical mortals may be; Yet I have a serious mis-giving, But that it will soon flush me— This week I miss pieces half twenty, With holes my yarn stockings are rife; And buttons have vanished in plenty, Oh! where can I find me a wife.

Each comrade, one after the other, Has happily chosen his mate; And left me alone with the bother, The curse of a bachelor's fate— My heart's feeling lonely and weary, With little desire of life, While all around smothered dreary, I sigh for the cheer of a wife.

No longer in burdensome sorrow, I'll sit by my fire alone; If only some darling, to-morrow, Will let me but call her my own— I'll love her almost to distraction, Within an inch of her life, Nor will I less a fraction, Oh! where will I find me a wife?

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

The Times is giving itself unnecessary trouble about the Democratic party. Our conciliatory contemporary winds up a long article on "The Public Distrust of the Democratic Party" with these candid and charitable remarks:

"For the people had neither forgotten nor forgiven the part played by the Democratic party during the war. As an organization—in all its corporate action—it had been the virtual ally of the rebellion. It had denounced the war for its suppression, and to the extent of its ability, and within the limits where such actions were safe, it had done everything it could to render it abortive. The people would not, under any pretext, return such a party to power. Whatever distrust they might have of men and measures in the Union ranks, they preferred the chances of both to the certain results of confiding the government to Democratic hands. The President, by taking the stump for the Democratic ticket, greatly strengthened this sentiment. His speeches—not so much the opinions and principles they embodied as the temper and spirit which they evinced—alarmed and revolted the public sense, and contributed powerfully to the defeat of the Democratic party.

If the Democrats cling to this narrow and selfish policy, they may reasonably count on the same result. Prominent and influential men in the Union ranks are doing much to disgust and alienate public confidence in the Union party; but they will never quite succeed, so long as the only alternative presented is the return of the old Democratic Bourbons to power."

We have nothing to say, at present, to the incalculable loss strewn through the Times' article, because we wish, at present, to say something else, relating rather to the future than the past. Whether the Democratic party favored or opposed the cause of the rebels, may be a question open to dispute, since it is in point of fact disputed; but it is not open to dispute that the rebels favored their own cause. If the course of the Democrats during the war is to exclude them from political influence, it must follow, a fortiori, from the Times' premises, that the course of the rebels during the war must exclude them from influence, and that no party can be successful with whom these rebels act and vote. Does the Times adopt this conclusion? Which its reasoning inevitably leads? What sort of a restored "Union" will that be in which the South are denied all influence, and no party can receive them into its communion without certain defeat? If the Times' reasoning proves anything, it puts the South beyond the pale of every successful party organization, and condemns them to perpetual isolation. This is the very spirit of that Radical intolerance from which the Times affect to shrink; but if the South are not to be under a perpetual ban, why, then, should the Democratic party? To restore actual rebels to confidence and proscribers to the confidence and sympathy with them, would be too much like pardoning the thief and hanging those who looked over the hedge.

If the Times expects to whip and oust the Radicals without the Democratic and Southern vote, we wish it a pleasant voyage and favoring winds. The Northern and Southern Democracy, counted together, make a majority of the voting population of the country. We see no reason why, when the Union is restored, the actual majority should despair of getting control of the government. Fluctuations smaller than have taken place from year to year would make the Democratic party a majority even in the North. A change of less than fifteen hundred votes would make the Democratic party a majority in New Hampshire. In Connecticut, last year, the Republican vote was 43,794, the Democratic vote 43,433; a change of 275 votes will give us the State in the approaching election. A transfer of half the majority to the other side equalizes the parties. In Pennsylvania, last year, the Republican vote was 307,274, the Democratic vote 290,096; a change of 8,587 votes would destroy the majority—requiring only about one voter in every thousand of the whole voting population of the State to change sides. A party which even last year came so near success has no reason to lose heart, especially as it will soon be reinforced by the whole Southern vote. In Indiana, last year, the Republican vote was 169,601, the Democratic vote 155,399; a change of 7,101 votes would have annihilated the Republican majority—a small proportion of the total vote of 325,000. In New York, the Republican vote was 366,315, the Democratic vote was 352,526; a change of 6,895 votes would have given a Democratic majority—by such a slight margin does the Democratic party in this great State stand separated from success. If we can change but one vote in every 1,045 we shall wipe out the Republican majority.

The Times seems to reason as if it were necessary to proselyte the whole Republican party, when in fact all we have got to do is to undeceive a very few thousand votes. When we have gained these we shall give ourselves little solicitude about the opinions entertained of the Democratic party by the Republican residue. We shall gain all the votes we want, and more than we need, from people whose identification with the Republican party has not been so conspicuous as that of the Times, and who, not having spent years in abusing the Democratic party, will not feel so fastidious about joining it. Our reliance is on the honest laboring classes, who will be converted to the Democratic party by irresistible Republican arguments. Our enormous taxes are a Republican gift; our debased currency is a Republican invention; the pinching prices which make it so hard for workingmen to live are Republican bequests. These are the arguments which will circulate themselves without the aid of political committees, and within the next year they will change thrice the number of votes necessary to bring the Democratic party into power.

GLORIFYING IN THEIR SHAME.—Last Monday, on the receipt of the news in this city that Congress had passed the military despotism bill over the President's veto, the Radical disunion leaders rang all the church bells an hour. Thus were our churches desecrated by rejoicings over the triumph of treason and the destruction of Republican government. It shows a depravity which could result from no possible cause except the infidel abolition politics that curse our country.

It is a melancholy fact that some of our people have become so lost to all the finer instincts and feelings of humanity, as to publicly rejoice over the oppressions and persecutions of their own countrymen. Nero fiddled while Rome burned, but our modern Radicals have outstripped the heathenism of that old tyrant. They commit sacrilege in the face of heaven, in their insane glee because the black pall of despotism enshrouds ten co-equal States of the American Union. Ten millions of our brethren and sisters, of a common race and blood, of common hopes and aspirations, living under a common Constitution guaranteeing equal rights and privileges, created for a common purpose and bound for a common destiny, and ground down under the yoke of bondage, their homes filled with sadness and gloom, their property despoiled, their sanctuaries stripped of the emblems of religion, their young men cast down, their young women clothed in sackcloth, the despot's heel upon their necks, enterprise paralyzed, industry strangled, the Union wrecked, the Constitution defied, our country disgraced in the eyes of all mankind our government branded as an imposition and a lie before all nations, and a party in our midst, professing the highest regard for liberty and clamoring themselves hoarse for universal freedom, openly impiously rejoice over the appalling crime.

What a wreck of public morality and virtue has radicalism made in our country. O, liberty, what crimes are committed in thy sacred name! Our church bells are rung because constitutional liberty has been stabbed in the house of professed friends. These nominal friends are the enemies of our country and our race, the self-wise, conceited, debauched Jacobins of this generation. They gloat over the downfall of our institutions, and make themselves merry over the public calamities. Such are some of the men who walk in the paths of social respectability among us today. Many of these men deceive themselves and imagine they do God's service, as did Saul persecuting the Christians. They go it blind for their party, regardless of consequences. They travel headlong, as unreasoning and thoughtless fanatics always do.

We ask the honest, thinking men of all parties to consider whether those to whom we refer, are safe leaders in such a crisis as this? Is it not time to change fronts and give reason and common sense the sway? We ask Democrats who attend our city churches on the Sabbath day and own shares in those houses of worship, how long they propose to submit to have their property used and their manhood insulted by pealing bells over the destruction of our government and the enslavement of our people? It is a scandal upon religion and a mockery of heaven.—Portsmouth (N. H.) States and Union.

A BRIEF STORY FOR ROMANTIC YOUNG LADIES.—A few years ago society in New York was agog over the secret marriage of the daughter of a millionaire to her father's coachman. The foolish girl—Minnie Boker—was disinherited by her unforgiving parent, and at his death she did not receive a cent of his large fortune. By selling her jewelry and other personal effects, she set up her husband in the restaurant business, but the vulgar wretch finding he had drawn a blank, as far as the money bags were concerned, abused and neglected the silly girl who had risked everything to gratify a romantic, and, therefore, stupid fancy.

Last winter a philanthropic gentleman of Washington was called upon to assist a woman who was living in squalid poverty in that city. He found her ragged, hungry and half drunk. Her breath was vile with the fume of miserable liquor. The poor creature turned out to be Minnie Boker—what was left of her. He induced a religious society to take her in charge and give her a home. About a month ago she stole away from this retreat, and is again a frequenter of the low drinkeries.

The comic and sentimental song writers struck a rich mine in the wedding of the deluded girl, but the humor and the sentiment seem to be pretty well exhausted, and the moral doesn't jingle worth a penny.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Some time ago J. R. Hallam, of Newport, sued W. S. Bailly, formerly of the Free South newspaper, for libel, fixing his damage at $50,000. When the case was called for trial in the Circuit Court at Alexandria, Bailly, by advice of counsel confessed judgment for $1,000. Subsequently Hallam agreed to remit all of the amount except a sum sufficient to pay his attorney's fee, provided Bailly would publish in his paper, the Covington Leader, within ten days, a full retraction of the libel. This it seems, he failed to do, and on Saturday sheriff Schwartz arrested him on a capias ad satisfaciendum, and is now in the Newport jail, and an effort will be made to have him released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Last year the ladies of Columbus, Georgia, inaugurated the 26th of April as an anniversary of the dead who fell in the Lost Cause. Several other cities in the South observed the day by clothing the graves of the Confederate dead with flowers. The day is likely to be observed this year throughout the South, and fair tender hands, from the Susquehanna to the Rio Grande, will decorate the sad resting places of those who fell so bravely and untimely. The 26th of April will be observed in this touching manner doubtless for years to come.

April 26th will be celebrated by the Odd-fellows throughout the country as a day of special thanksgiving.

MARRIAGE OF BLOOD RELATIONS.—Annexed is an extract from the report of the Commissioners for the education and training of feeble minded children to the Legislature. Personally we do not think there is much truth in the conclusions of the commissioners. They are as liable to be misled by prejudice as other people by love.

A subject of very great social importance is brought incidentally to notice in the report; the intermarriage of persons nearly related. We deem it, says the report, our duty to the interest of humanity, as well as to the pecuniary interest of the State, to bear our testimony, in addition to the abundant statistics heretofore collected and published by physicians and philanthropists, and to the observation of every close observer, as well as to general considerations of propriety, that large percentage of deaf mutes and of the blind, a limited percentage of lunatics, and, no doubt, a much larger one than either of feeble minded or idiotic children, are the offspring of the marriage of first cousins. Our charitable institutions are filled with children all the time whose parents are so related—sometimes as many as four from one family; and we have known in the case of idiots, of a still larger number in a family. It is a fearful penalty to which persons so related render themselves liable by forming the matrimonial relation, and which they in nearly every instance, incur, not indeed in all, but in one or more of their offsprings. Instances, we do not deny, may be shown where a portion of the children, one or more, may inherit from both parents, where possessed of high and bodily endowments of a common origin, enhanced and remarkable qualities of body and mind; but it is generally at the expense of unfortunate and deeply afflicted brothers and sisters. We believe few instances can be given where such enhanced endowments are common to all the offsprings while instances are not unfrequent where nearly, and, in a few, perhaps, every child, is afflicted either in body or in mind, and sometimes in both.

The State has, in a large majority of cases, to educate, and often support for life, these afflicted children. Has she not then a clear and indisputable right to interpose her authority to prevent matrimonial alliances, so productive of private calamity and of public injury? The State is thereby not only defrauded of the labor, usefulness, energy and intelligence of a considerable portion of her citizens, but she has, in addition the burden of their education and support, and in the case of uneducated children, their support for life, thus unreasonably superinduced, upon her. The unfortunate, by unavoidable casualty, she must and ought cheerfully to provide for; but surely she is not bound, in reason and good policy, to legalize marriages so productive of private and public damage. Indeed it is so preposterous, not to say wrong, that she should do it.

A law of a few lines would cut off, henceforward, the expenditure of thousands of dollars for the support of the offsprings of marriages of first cousins, as well as prevent the burden of a lifetime of sorrow and regret in many estimable families. We desire to say emphatically, that this opinion is not a theory that is based upon well ascertained and indubitable facts.

The other day, at Toledo, Ohio, a cattle dealer received pay for a steer which he had sold to a butcher, and rolling the greenbacks into a small roll, put them into his tobacco box. Shortly after, he extracted, what he thought, a portion of the tobacco, but with all his mastication, could extract none of the savory juices, and finally took his quid out of his mouth to look at it, when he found he had been chewing his roll of greenbacks. He stood aghast for a moment, and then burst out: "Cuss the luck—a whole steer at one chew!"

If a laddie meets a lassie walking in the street; if the lassie wears a tilter—shows an ankle neat; if the wind, in rudely blowing, lifts her skirt too high; and the laddie sees that ankle, need a lassie cry? Every lassie wears a tilter and a hinderpest, and a metal palpitator on her snowy breast. If when married to the lassie, these false charms he spy; if he says, "I'm sold by jingo!" need a lassie cry.

A wounded Irishman wrote home from the hospital, and finished up by saying: "I'm for this country. I've bled for it, and I shall soon be able to say I've died for it."

Our able standard-bearer in this district, Col. T. L. Jones, addressed the Democracy of this county at the Court house, in this place, last Monday. He was greeted with a large and enthusiastic audience, who listened earnestly and attentively to his speech. He ably sustained the cause of the Democracy, and took up the defense for the administration of Mr. Johnson, and clearly satisfied all Democrats that the reconstruction policy laid down and pursued by that wise executive, was the only constitutional course that could be followed. That reconstruction on his basis was humane and just, and that unless the States could be admitted on fixed principles of constitutional liberty, that republicanism as understood by our fathers was a farce. No man who really loves the country, and desires to see humanity dealt with justly, can object to a liberal and christian course toward the States of the South.—none but Thad. Stevens and his myrmidons are howling for the blood and treasure (the little they have left) of our Southern friends—and these howling dervishes, like their mohamedan prototypes, are mad with fanaticism, and will doubtless destroy themselves as lunatics of their character have done in years gone by. The efforts of the Radical party to destroy the country, and place the people under a despotism, and as they say to “play the constitution out,” and leave us without any security for life, liberty and property, has received a check, which has almost knocked the life out of the mad concern. The people of this district are convinced that the constitution will play the Radicals out of power; instead of the Radicals playing the constitution out; and the firm and manly effort made by Col. Jones, on Monday, in behalf of human rights, has given the constitutional ball another roll, and unless the Radicals fall in with Democratic principles, they will be annihilated, as truth has always triumphed over error. The triumph of constitutional liberty is certain, and those who stand in opposition to its success, and array themselves against it, as the Radicals are doing, so certainly will they be brought to grief. The Democracy of Harrison, are decided constitutional men, and they will sustain Col. Jones at the polls on the 4th of May, in a manner that will convince him and the world that they believe in the principles he is teaching.

The turnpike question continues to engage the attention of our people. It is of vital importance to Harrison County, and especially so to the owners of the soil. If the county will take seven hundred and fifty dollars stock in every mile of pike that can be built, it would only cost each adult individual thirteen cents per year, while if we continue in the mud, two, three and sometimes five days' work will be exacted for road purposes, and this at a time when the farmer is busy planting. And there is no certainty that we will be compelled to pay the 13 cents, for the pikes may be able to make sufficient gatage to pay that interest.

Take for instance the Oddville pike. So great has been the travel on that road, that the stockholders find themselves possessed with a small sinking fund after paying the interest or dividend on the capital invested, as we have been informed.

There can be no objection offered to the pike question, if there is no cost attached to the citizens, other than that of gatage.

But men may say that this will not be the case at the beginning, when the roads are first opened. Admit that fact. Would it not be better that we should all pay 13 cents per year, for five years, and then have good roads, at no cost, than to travel in the mud?

We need a turnpike from Cynthia to Connersville, and from Connersville to Emmerson's Mills. That road can be built by assistance from the county. It will strike the Georgetown and Williamstown pike near Emmerson's Mills, and will bring people from Scott, Grant and Owen Counties here for business purposes. The people in that section will be able to load their wagons with grain and the surplus produce of their farms, and come to Cynthia, where they can find railroad connection with all the world, or trade their produce for the calico or groceries.

The people of Scott County are about to commence the building of a pike from Georgetown to Leesburg, and a mile and a half will be made in Harrison. This road is an important one to this county, and must be built. It will be of immense advantage to the Covington Railroad company, as it will take travel and freight from the Louisville road. Mr. Keith, the President, of our railroad, proposes to take stock in any pike that will benefit their road.

The Union Convention which met in Covington several weeks since, nominated Wm. S. Rankin, as their standard bearer, in the race for Congress. Mr. Rankin is a man of fair talent, but like nearly all of his political school, is unscrupulous and careless as to how he shall win, or his party become successful. Col. Jones will beat him easy, and will carry the District by as great a majority as he can desire. The Democracy have determined to increase the vote for Jones, on account of the violent and abusive speech made by Mr. Benton, the President of the Union Convention, against Mr. Jno. C. Breckinridge. Mr. Benton will, one day, if he lives ten years longer, regret the enunciation of such a speech. His old Yankee whims about an imaginary attempt Gen. Breckinridge made, to destroy Republic Institutions, of which all is nonsense and balderdash. Any man who asserts that the Confederates intended to destroy Republic Institutions, in their late struggle, asserts a falsehood. Old man Benton never was thoroughly imbued with pure Republicanism—we refer to that kind which animated our old Patriot Fathers—and if he should die before he joined the Democratic party, he could never die happy, or reach a republic in heaven. These Radicals must all repent and be baptised into the Democratic faith, as their is no promise of salvation to any others.

EXECUTIVE DISTRICT COMMITTEES.—Cynthia—James Cronwell, B. P. Dills, E. W. Martin.

Another flying machine is now in process of building in California. The inventors expect to make the trip from San Francisco to New York in twenty-four hours.

A third party has come into existence in this State, calling itself the conservative. It has no lay members as far as we have heard from, and its principles differ very little with the Abolition Radical platform.

The Radicals are in favor of taking from the rebels the right to hold office and vote, permitting them only to pay taxes and join a church.

The Conservatives are just like the Radicals with the exception that they are willing the rebels should vote, but they must not hold office or join any church.

These conservative fellows are the same old suck-egg set that have for years past been preaching emancipation in the State and singing free-nigger psalms, and when you get near enough to them, you can smell the “nigger,” as easy as you can on a Radical.

They are bushwhackers, from the Radical camp, and are now out on a chicken expedition.

The large number of officers among them and the scarcity of privates reminds us of a remark we heard years ago. Two overseers and one poor nigger.

We notice that Josh Bell, of Boyle, is the tail of the cossack, and Jacobs the head. A fine string.

The good old precinct of Kenton town has left the county of Harrison. It was a glorious old Democratic precinct, her people were true to the principles of their patriot fathers, and as a section stands high in the estimation of the Democracy.

“Have you heard from the Kenton town district?” has always been a question of importance to the Democracy, and when an affirmative answer was given and the result stated, a cheer has always been heard in response, for she has never been known to vote wrong.

Kossuth still resides in Turin. He has grown prematurely old, and bears in his person the marks of the cruel disappointments and vicissitudes which have marked his life. His hair and beard, which many will remember as a glossy black, have been for several years as white as silver; his form, once so erect, is bowed with grief and suffering, and a profound melancholy, since the death of his wife, with whom he buried all his hopes, marks his whole demeanor. But his voice is still soft and sweet, and his eye still beams with that sad and tender light which gave so much of its wonderful beauty to his face. He is poor, powerless and alone.

The fighting editor of a Mississippi paper tells a good joke on himself, thereby taking the “wind out of the sails” of those of his confederates who might have an itching to tell it on him. Says he: I went up to a great strapping, two-fisted countryman, who owed me some money, and seemed in no hurry to liquidate, and persuaded in my own mind, that he wouldn't fight, I told him pointedly that if he didn't shell out instantly, I would wallop him. The fellow was scared, and probably thought I was sure enough going to knock him into the middle of next week. He was awfully scared—too much so to even run away—and so he blazed away with one of his huge fists, and knocked me! The trouble was, in this affair I scared the fellow too bad, and the kick he struck me was directed by fear—at all events it was a fearful blow.

One of the shrewdest of our old colored citizens, who knows on which side his bread is buttered, and has a hearty contempt for the little pretenders and the ragamuffins that seek to control him, observed the other day, “the difference between a Conservative gentleman and a Radical sneak is this: The Conservative meets me, and says good morning, and asks me how I am getting on, and has a cheerful word, and finally gives me a dollar for old acquaintance sake, and promises me a job if I'll call around; the Radical meets me, smiles, and bows politely, takes my hand as if he thought he was doing me a favor and then asks me to subscribe a quarter to some locus-pocus society or league, which he has just got up. If I give him the quarter, that's the last I see of him or the money. There never was a truer or more logical statement made.”—Nashville Banner.

We are authorized to announce F. E. McMillan a candidate for Constable of the Leesburg district, subject to the Democratic convention. April 21

On Friday last, Col. Bradley sold his hotel stand at Berry's Station, for $2,620.

Leon Cuson arrived home last week from New York city, with a large supply of new dry goods.

D. A. Givens, has returned from the East, with a fresh supply of fancy spring dry goods.

R. C. Wherritt is opening his new stock of spring goods, which he has just returned with from New York City.

Jos. H. Shawhan, our Merchant Tailor, has brought on from the Eastern market, a new and splendid stock of gents furnishing Goods.

We regret to learn that our young and handsome friend, Dudley Hutchinson, accidentally shot himself, last Saturday, through the hand.

Hugh M. Kellar, of our county, has removed to the city of Henderson. We recommend him and his family to the good people of that city. May he be successful and pleased with his new situation.

On Monday last, Mr. Geo. Wyatt, of Ruddle's Mills sold one-half of his fast trotting stallion, "Stonewall," to Mr. J. T. Megibbon, of Harrison, for $1,000. The owners have declined making a season with him this year.

We have been authorized to say, by a gentleman of this county, that he will make one of twenty, to raise $1,000, $50 each, to buy corn for the suffering poor of the South. Who will come in?

J. S. Withers, of this place, is the agent for several No. 1 insurance companies. The statements of these companies have been published in the "News," and he can vouch for their reliability.

ATTENTION DEMOCRATS OF CYNTHIANA PRECINCT.—A meeting of the Democracy of this precinct will be held at the Court-house, in Cynthiana, on Saturday, April 20, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating two Magistrates and a Constable, to be elected on the 4th of May.

James Cromwell,
B. F. Dills,
E. W. Martin,
Precinct Committee.

Our young friends, Jack Egnew and Joel Rankin, have been up in the mountains of Kentucky, on a trading and electioneering tour. They are pushing a strong tin-ware trade, and hail from the house of Mr. Frank Box of this city. They report the mountains alive and on fire for the constitutional Democracy. They say that the mountain people have it that McKee is in favor of negro suffrage, which is true, and that he is for negro equality. They are refusing to support all the tickets except the white man's Democratic ticket.

Robertson Station March 21, '67.

Dear Sir:—I take the liberty of writing to you in regard to a communication in the Cynthiana News some weeks since, asking if I would permit my name to go before a Democratic Convention to nominate a candidate to represent Harrison County, in the next General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. I have delayed making any answer to said communication, because I could not make up my mind what answer to make. I could not think of becoming a candidate for any office unless endorsed by a majority of the Democratic party. Knowing that there are many more able men belonging to the party than myself in the county, who would accept a nomination, and, believing that in these days, when our government is changing from a republicanism to a despotism; the very best and most able men should be elected to office, I would be more pleased to see some one of them nominated for that office than I should be, to be elected myself. But if it be the wishes of a majority of the party that I be their candidate at the next August election, I should be inclined to accept the position with great diffidence; and with doubt as to my ability to represent the people of Harrison County, as they ought to be represented.

Respectfully your obedient servant,
M. D. Martin.

Our friend, Thos. F. Clay, of Bourbon, has been on a fishing expedition up Red River—a rivulet by the way, of no mean dimensions—wherein angling is a good business, and if we can credit what our ears have heard, the funny tribe are so numerous and plentiful, that they stick their heads above the water, to see when and where the fishermen throw their hooks, that they may seize at it as early a period as possible, so anxious are they to change their location and condition. Mr. Clay caught a pike in that river, that weighed 19 pounds and measured 42 inches in length.

We take the following from that excellent Democratic paper, the Charleston, Ill. Courier:

Mrs. Frazier, relict of the late Doctor Frazier, of Cynthiana, Ky., accompanied by her beautiful and accomplished granddaughter, has recently been on a visit to her relatives and friends in this city. She and her progeny returned home on Tuesday, via Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

NOTICE.

One of the best Hotel Stands in Kentucky for Sale.

OWING TO CIRCUMSTANCES well known to myself and many friends (but not from pecuniary or any financial circumstances) and being desirous of living in the country, I am induced, and now offer for sale my

HOTEL.

In Cynthiana, with all the furniture and fixtures belonging. I can convince any gentleman that it is one of the best paying hotels in the interior of Kentucky. It being located within 200 feet of the depot, it is large and commodious, and capable of accommodating over 200 persons. It is the best location in the city. It is also the breakfast stand for passengers traveling on the K. C. R. R., and during the summer will be the stage office for a line of stages running from this place to Owensville, Bath County, Ky., by way of Headquarters, Carlisle and Sharpshooter. Also all the travel and stock trade that has heretofore gone to Paris from the counties of Nicholas, Bath and Montgomery, will all be concentrated at Cynthiana, which will be a large addition to the hotels and add greatly to the welfare of the city.

There is not a more substantially built house in Kentucky, built upon 2 out walls of the best of material 8 feet deep. There is the best of cellars under the whole house. The house is entirely new, having been built in the fall of '63 and the spring of '64. The entire house, kitchen and porches are well protected with fire-proof roofing. Upon the premises there is a never failing well, also a No. 1 cistern that holds 600 barrels of water. Also the largest ice-house in the county, filled with ice.

I will also sell 3 lots fronting on Walnut street, one fronting 52 feet running back 91 feet, with a comfortable 1 1/2 story brick house with a weatherboarded ell attached, containing 5 rooms, this will make a comfortable house for a small family. Also 2 lots adjoining, fronting 26 feet on Walnut street, running back 91 feet, these two lots will make desirable business lots. I will sell the above lots separately or with the hotel, as they are attached to the hotel premises.

I will also sell 7 lots on Pike street, fronting from 21 to 25 feet running back 104 feet, which I will sell altogether or divide them to suit the purchasers.

I can frankly and honestly say that I consider this stand one of the best prospects for an enterprising and industrious man to make a fortune in a few years of any hotel in the interior of Kentucky. I will say further that I will convince any gentleman that wishes to purchase that the receipts of this house for one year will more than pay the purchase money.

Any one wishing to purchase will call and examine the premises, and I will take great pleasure in showing them and giving them the terms. A general warranty deed will be given.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS!

The Great Female Remedy for Irregularities!!!

I HAVE tested these Drops in my own practice over ten years, and do not hesitate to say, that nothing has yet been developed by medical research, that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers are indebted to it for the boon of health to-day.

Although so powerful and positive, they are perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.

They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from ladies all over the Northern and North Western States, were they not in their nature, private. Over 100,000 bottles have been sold the last year, and I hope and trust as many sufferers have been benefited. I am well aware that a remedy so potent to remove all obstructions, may be used for a bad purpose, but trust that when one bottle is thus used, many will fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.

To all who suffer from any irregularity, painful, difficult, excessive, offensive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhoea, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, try a bottle of Dr. Lyon's French Periodical Drops. Being a fluid preparation, their action is more direct and positive than any pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my facsimile, accompany each bottle.

They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by enclosing the price to C. G. Clark & Co., New Haven, Ct. General Agents for the United States in Canada.

DR. JOHN L. LYON.
Practicing Physician, New Haven, Ct.
Price $1.50 per Bottle. Mar 28—ly

Blue Grass Farm FOR SALE.

THE Farm on which I now reside is for sale. It is situated four miles south of Cynthiana, half a mile from Lair's Station on the Kentucky C. R. Road, at which place there is a post office, express office, depot, saw mill and two excellent grist mills that manufacture the best quality of flour and meal. It is within 3 hours ride of Cincinnati and 1 1/2 of Lexington. It contains about 175 Acres, one hundred acres well timbered, nicely cleared up and set in the grass. The remainder cleared and in the highest state of cultivation. The fencing all in good order. The improvements consist of a comfortable dwelling, partly frame and partly log, weatherboarded and plastered and painted, containing six rooms, cook-house and all necessary out buildings including two large stables, (with lofts for feed,) a large enough to house and feed 75 mules at a time which can be done without going out doors as there is large wide feed rooms extending the whole length of the stables in which there is a cutting box run by horse power, with capacity and strength enough to cut a large quantity of provender in a short time. There is also a young orchard of select fruit of various kinds now bearing. The farm is supplied with abundance of pure water for all purposes as there is upon it a number of never failing springs. (Some of them near the dwelling) & South Licking which runs along one side of it. Any one wishing to purchase such a farm would do well to call and examine for himself as the place will be sold for a reasonable price, the payments made easy and if desired a part of the money can be run a considerable length of time at moderate interest.
I also desire to sell 400 acres of Land which lies in Lewis county Missouri. Said land is situated about 12 miles from Palmyra on the road leading from there to Monticello and about 16 miles from the Mississippi river, about one half of it timbered land, the timber excellent, the balance prairie of good quality, a little rolling & dry. It is a good neighborhood, & is surrounded by old settlers and finely improved farms. There is a large handsome brick church & school house in sight of the land. Also, a small village & post office near by. Price reasonable, payments easy & made to suit the ability & convenience of purchasers. For further particulars call on

ASTROLOGY.
THE WORLD ASTONISHED.
At the wonderful revelations made by the great astrologist, Madame H. A. Perrigo. She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and position of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation free, with likeness and all desired information. Parties living at a distance can consult the madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned, and all correspondence will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair. Address, Madame H. A. Perrigo, P. O. Drawer 293, Buffalo, N. Y.

A young lady returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft, ruddy complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared that or eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used Circassian Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combinations, as nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. Price $1, sent by mail or express, on receipt of an order by W. L. Clark & Co., Chemists, No. 3 West Fayette street, Syracuse, N. Y. The only American agents for the sale of the same.
